Type or print in the box below the anticipated title of the master's thesis. The title should be both precise and concise and should contain several key words or phrases to facilitate future, electronic, database searches.