

A certificate is a formal academic award (as defined by the U.S. Department of Education) conferred by the University upon the successful completion of all requirements of a certificate program at either the baccalaureate or post-baccalaureate level. There are two types of certificate programs: Embedded and Independent.

Embedded certificate programs are formal, coherent academic programs composed of a minimum of 12 semester hours of credit. They are earned con

