

Core

the Core launch year, over 260 SLU faculty and staff members in both St. Louis and Macomb will have participated in more Core in-person or development sessions. This number includes people from all colleges, schools, and centers. The Core represents hundreds of hours of cross-disciplinary conversation between colleagues in the discussion of best practices for engaging the minds and hearts of our SLU undergraduate students.

As the official launch of our University Core comes into view, we are working on several continuing projects. This summer, 20 new Core Curricular Innovation Faculty Fellows will begin developing new courses for the Core to be submitted in 2022 and 2023 in the 2023-24 academic year. We have three new Undergraduate Core Curricular Fellows joining the UGCC to share in the
